Clergy Letter Project

CLARKDALE — The popular and thought-provoking series of programs for the Science and Religion Lecture Series, part of the Clergy Letter Project, will take place on each of the four Sundays in February at 2:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary, 330 Scenic, Clarkdale.

Guest speakers for the series are as follows:

- Feb. 2, Wayne Ranney, renowned geologist and authority on Antarctica;
- Feb. 9, Ken Zoll, director of the Verde Valley Archeological Society and director of the Museum in Camp Verde
- Feb. 16, Samantha Gorney, deputy director of education, Lowell Observatory
- Feb. 23, Georgia Braithwaite, Spirit of Joy Church member and botanist

Lectures are free. Refreshments in the Fellowship Hall will follow each program. Call 928-634-4102 for more information.
